CALGARY, Jan. 11.—Hon. N. E. Turner, Alberta provincial minister of natural resources, said yesterday that the statement of government policy today told the McGillivray royal commission that the oil wells will continue to see that Turner Valley oil wells produce properly.

"Oil production is to be increased and to continue conservation methods in Turner Valley," he said.

The minister was called to stand by Commissioner J. J. Frawley, as the commission concluded its evidence regarding life of the five oil wells under the pipeline phase of the probe.

ADJOURNED TO FRIDAY

The commission adjourned until Friday morning when accounting evidence will be submitted on operation of Royalite Oil Company's three pipelines from Turner Valley.

Mr. Justice A. A. McGillivray, commission chairman, announced details of the probe to move a final report on pipeline matters before going on with other phases of the probe, ruling out any further revelations in the inquiry.

The committee was told that investigators spent $400 for which the city had paid, while delivered to the Royalite Lumber Co., Ltd., to Mr. Rattenbury's home at 1136 10th Street, between October, 1934, and September, 1935.

The probe opened last Friday and its initial session was followed by Mr. Rattenbury's dismissal by his employer, who was admitted privately to them shortages of "over $1,000" and suspension of his services.

The probe, which was to be taken over by Mr. Justice Duthie, was adjourned to further revelations in the inquiry.

OWNERSHIP OF POWER SYSTEM BY PEOPLE AIM

Mayor Telford Says Vancouver Citizens Pay More Than Manitoba

VANCOUVER, Jan. 11.—Mayor J. Lyle Telford advocated municipal ownership of electrical power facilities in British Columbia in an address to a service club Rotary here Tuesday.

Major John D. O'Farrell, Canadian Commonwealth Federation member of the British Columbia legislature, said British Columbians were paying more for electricity than anyone else in Canada, excepting those in Manitoba, where a municipally-owned hydro-electric system is operated.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

"I am not going to argue ownership on your behalf, but how we will take over I'm not sure," Dr. Telford said.

The city and dividends paid last year to shareholders of the British Columbia Electric Railway company alone were "approximately seven times those of all other electric railways in Canada put together."

The British Columbia Electric Railway is the largest producer of electrical power in the southernmost coast district of the province and part of Vancouver Island.

COMPANY'S DIVIDENDS

Major Telford said the company's dividends last year amounted to $1,000,000, while total dividends of all Canadian electric railways amounted to $1,000,000.

"I am not giving you a state of what actually is coming," the mayor said.

O'Farrell and Macleod, with publicly-owned systems pay the lowest rates for electrical power in the province.

Then, when Mr. Stevens spoke of a compensation available to Dr. MacLean's victims, has been wiped out by the new legislation. Now, he said, Dr. MacLean will move over to sit with J. S. Woodsworth.

GENERAL GET-TOGETHER

The meeting was to be the start of a general get-together, with the intention the Conservatives would discuss organizational problems at the meeting.

Mr. MacLean, member of parliament for Toronto-Dundas, who had been a member of the cabinet, was re-appointed to the new one.

Mr. H. R. Bennett, president of the Canadian National Bank, was also invited to attend.

Mr. H. R. Bennett, was the only member not present.

Escaped Convict,
Buster Clarke, Is Still A Fugitive

Still on the loose after days of freedom from custody, J. R. Buster Clarke, 21, who escaped his way from a maximum security prison at all costs, and took to the hills, still has a few tricks up his sleeve.

We are sure, however, that he will be captured again, and when he is back in jail before long, don't you worry about that!

Athletes Robbed

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 11.—The break into the Ross Arthur Bear Cat Harvey Club, robbing records, money and gold, was the second in six days and came in addition to the robbery of the players' locker. The losses included a $50 watch, priced between $100 and $150.

Two numbers of Harvey's whist tournaments were stolen through Education, police are still of the opinion he remains hidden in the city.

Modified "Sanctions"

Washington has disclosed that last Friday it struck Japan off the list of countries which are permitted to buy bombs and airplanes in the United States. The prohibition cuts in two ways. It must to some degree hamper the "new order" of frightfulness Japan's war directors have introduced into China. And it restricts the sale of Japanese goods in the United States by the amount of the bombs and planes it would otherwise have bought here; which may be more serious for the aggressor.

Nor, unless moral sense has been entirely dragged out of the people of Japan, will they overlook that their country is thus black-listed because of the bombing of civilian populations in China.

Canadian officials, it is to be hoped, are taking good care that the astute Japanese are not circumventing the embargo by importing U.S. planes and bombs by way of Canada, with "wash sales" in this country to cloak the transactions. That Canadian firms are not being allowed to fill the orders which cannot be placed in the United States is to be supposed.

More Crimes and Criminals

Preliminary to re-introducing his prison reform plan, which the Senate threw out at last session, Hon. Ernest Lapointe has presented some startling facts as to the increase of crime in Canada last year as compared with the year before.

The general conclusion suggested by the figures is that the country is suffering the aftermath of the depression which threw multitudes out of employment and barred the doors of opportunity against youth. Conditions in that respect have vastly improved, but those who fell into crime because of idleness and hopelessness cannot be expected to turn quickly to ways of honesty.

An important feature of the prison reform plan is that it would separate young and first offenders from habitual criminals in the Dominion penitentiaries. The wisdom of doing that—to say nothing about justice—is apparent. The more so because a large proportion of those who took the wrong turn under influence of depressed conditions were young. These under proper treatment may win back to good citizenship. At least they should be given the chance by freedom from association with those who have to be classed as permanent enemies of society.

The Senate which threw out the bill last year on the ground of insufficient time to study its provisions, has now had ample time to consider it and should give approval at the coming session.

Telling Him in Advance

Italian newspapers obligingly explained on Monday that Mr. Chamberlain is cast for the role of helper to Il Duce in euching France out of colonial territory. Mussolini was to tell his guest what he wanted, and it would be expected of the latter that he would "clear the way of obstacles" by "putting in a good word with France" to the effect that it had better hand over peacefully in the name of appeasement.

If the information is not surprising, nor the greeting very courteous, at least the language is plain to the point of showing that the "fine Italian hand" has no part in the diplomatic technique of Il Duce. Remembering that he tells the Italian newspapers what they may and may not say, this announcement on the eve of the conference takes on the character of a direct demand upon the visiting Prime Minister.

What is suggested is that the Berlin-Rome axis be extended to London and that Great Britain associate itself with the dictators in pulling its ally to pieces. In return for which, it may be supposed, they would in turn gladly associate themselves with France for the purpose of pulling pieces away from the British Empire if and as occasion made that possible.

The inference is rather plain that unless Mr. Chamberlain consents to play the part thus assigned to him the Italian troops will stay in Spain. Il Duce will refuse to help in getting the Jews out of Germany, and the conference will be a failure.

Edmonton's Police Force

The city council, it may be expected, will accept Ald. Grout's motion, of which he has given notice, that an inquiry be made into the efficiency and methods of the police force. To refuse the inquiry would in the circumstances do injury to the force, lessen its prestige, cause tongues to wag, and arouse rather than allay public concern.

Investigation is not condemnation, and the ordering of an inquiry does not presuppose inefficiency of any serious character. A police force, like any other human organization, is the better for an occasional survey, provided of course the survey be conducted in a fit and proper manner. And because the public depend on the police for protection of life and property, a high standard of efficiency is the only standard that can be satisfactory.

So far as the public are aware Edmonton's police force is a pretty efficient body, made up of men who try to do their duty and directed by men with a clear sense of responsibility. True there have been house-breakings, and a constable was dismissed last week under similar circumstances, and a prisoner broke out of the police station.

But these happenings do not convict the force of inefficiency. They do show that there is ground for council instituting a broad inquiry. It is to be hoped the examination will show incidents to have been nothing more than individual lapses, such as do occur at times in perhaps every police force of any size. Unless the contrary is shown the public will, as they should, believe that the force is dependable.

Editorial Notes

Collections of federal and provincial income taxes in Alberta last year showed a gain of around 25 per cent over the figures for the preceding year. The broad meaning is that more persons in Alberta had incomes last year large enough to be taxable.

An aged Indian lady at William's Lake, B.C., obligingly informs the world in advance of several important events on the agenda for 1939. But she rather discounts her claim to prophetic powers by saying the King will visit Canada. Perhaps she got her other predictions also from the newspapers.

British banks have been told to check speculation in gold and foreign currencies. Too many people were converting pounds into gold and shipping the gold abroad while the pound lost buying power. A significant and highly important point is that United States banks had already shut down on the "flight from the pound" to New York.

KING AND QUEEN: It is only a short time, and you know how time shortens, until the King and Queen of Canada will be here among us. What are they going to think of Canada? It has occurred to me in my stupid little way that it might be well to let the foundation stone of the Canadian Parliament be laid in the foundation stone of the Pioneers who made this country what it is today. What is it today we do not exactly know, but we do know that we are the descendants of the Pioneers, the people who made the country what it is. The people who put the vitality in the place, and especially the women.

In this connection, I have heard that His Majesty, during his short stay, would consecrate the foundations of a monument to the Pioneers who built this province up to what it is today. What is it today we do not exactly know, but we do know that we are the descendants of the Pioneers, the people who made the country what it is. LEGISLATURE CUT RECEIVES CHAMBER O.K.

Group Urges No Discrimination In Reduction Of House Members

Membership in the legislature should be reduced, but without discrimination against the cities, declared a brief submitted Wednesday by the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce to the special redistribution committee of the legislature.

The chamber in its brief also objected to the "ward" system, under which representation in Calgary would be divided into four wards, having one member each, and having proportional representation about the same. At present two cities have six members each.

MINISTRY IN CHARGE

The committee re-convened at the government buildings Wednesday evening, Hon. Lucien Maynard, minister of municipal affairs.

The committee did not know what figure it wished to see the membership reduced. There are now nine members in the legislature.

SUGGESTION MADE

"Should be made so as to afford representation fairly and to the best of the public's popularity, without discrimination against the cities and other urban centers, in view of the importance of the latter in the life of the province."

The submission was presented by L. Cairns, K.C., chairman of the redistribution committee; H. Aylmer, M.L.A., and G. W. Williams, secretary-manager. The committee included Mr. Cairns, F. G. Williams, J. C. Conley, L. S. Irwin.

LESS EXPENSE

The suggestion of the legislature can be done more efficiently by a smaller number of members, with a committee of the legislature to propose changes by the public, the chamber stated.

Truster Morris said he wanted to bring the attention of the committee to the fact that the election of 1933 was the first time the legislature composed of all progressive groups as well as the old party minorities.

SALARY CUT

Mr. Lakeman also urged a $1,000 reduction in annual salaries of cabinet ministers and the elimination of the $100 per month allowance.

Replies to a question by H. E. Ingram, S.C., Drumbeamer, Mr. Lakeman said he had suggested a cut of $100 to $200.

A board of officers from the non-partisan active militia together with Captain R. E. A. Morton, L.B.H., and Captain K. C. Macmillan, secretary-manager, the committee included Dr. Bruce D. Walter, M.L.A.

One-Man Commission Holds Hearing On Cost Of Tubes In Alberta

A one-man commission of inquiry into the cost of radio tubes in Alberta was placed under review at the Edmonton Judicial District court house on Wednesday afternoon, when R. J. Gaunt, solicitor to the trade and industry department, sitting as a one man commission, opened public hearings on the subject.

Mr. Gaunt was named a commissioner by Hon. Ernest C. Manning, minister of trade and industry and legal counsel which he administers.

The inquiry comes close of the 1933 session of the legislature, which brought to light much information on radio tube costs in Alberta, and has already been sitting in Calgary since last Friday.

It is not expected that further discussion will be held after adjournment of that which commenced on Wednesday.

Mr. Gaunt will file his report with the minister as soon as it is drafted.

It is understood that several sub-matters will be made in the hearing of the committee.

The Great Out-Of-Doors

Hiking long distances regularly will make any human pretty as a picture, and there are a great many painters of horses.

There is nothing like a day in the country, unless it is a day at the beach or the sand at the same spot in the country.

Swinging down a country lane, and kicking the hills with the wind in your hair is great fun, particularly for the farmers who have time as well as money.

A day out-of-doors cleans the cobwebs from the mind. That buzzing in the head the next day is due to the spiders looking for their webs.

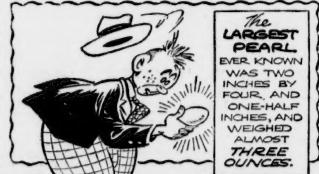

Everyone should plan at least one strenuous day out-of-doors every week. That will give the doctor a chance to get away at least for twenty-four hours to see his other patients.
